MISSOURI RHINELAND TOUR

The possibilities in the Missouri Rhineland are endless. Make your own history along this route of rich German heritage and incredible Missouri wine!

Discover the birthplace of the Show-Me state's wine country on this tour through the Missouri Rhineland. Missouri's long history of producing fine wines started in the 1830s when German immigrants established themselves and developed prosperous vineyards on the banks of the Missouri River. Known as the Missouri Rhineland because of its resemblance to Germany's Rhine River Valley, this area celebrates rich culture through German traditions, museums and award-winning wines.

From St. Louis hop on Missouri Highway 94 to start your drive through the Missouri Rhineland. On your journey, stop to enjoy the breathtaking vistas in the August A. Busch Memorial Conservation Area where you can walk hiking trails, drive the auto tour, photograph wildlife and enjoy the scenic outdoors.

Continue on highway 94 to make your way to the first federally recognized American Viticultural Area (AVA) in Augusta. Augusta Winery, Balducci Vineyards, Montelle Winery, Mount Pleasant Winery and Noboleis Vineyards are wineries to visit while in the quaint town of Augusta.

Continue your journey through the Missouri Rhineland stopping at Lost Creek Vineyard in Marthasville. Depending on the time of your visit, be sure to attend the annual German living historic festival Deutsch Country Days. After your tour through historic German life, drive only 15 miles north to Rolling Meadows Vineyards in Warrenton or travel 20 miles south of Marthasville to New Haven which is home to several wineries, including Röbller Vineyard. From New Haven, make your way to the German society settlement of Hermann!

A must see in this German town is the Deutschheim State Historic Site. Translated as "German Home," the term Deutschheim was used to describe the Missouri Rhineland area in the 1800s. Today, the Deutschheim State Historic Site consists of two houses filled with artifacts from German immigrant life in the 19th century. Hermann is also home to great Missouri wineries, including Adam Puchta Winery, Endless Summer Winery, Hermannhof Winery, Martin Brothers Winery, OakGlenn Winery and Stone Hill Winery.

Stay at one of the many not forget to Hill Winery's

the charming bed and breakfasts in Hermann and attend one of annual Hermann festivals that showcase German heritage. Do try authentic German fare at Hermann Wurst Haus or Stone Vintage Restaurant!

After Hermann, be sure to detour south through the countryside and discover the hidden treasures of Wenwood Farm Winery in Bland and White Mule Winery in Owensville.
